The Incomparable Christ: Our Master and Model Vaughn J Featherstone

In The Incomparable Christ: Our Master and Model, Elder Vaughn J. Featherstone of the First Quorum of the Seventy discusses the Savior's role in the Plan of Salvation, the Savior and the temple, the Savior and emotions, praying through the Savior, the Savior's mercy, the depth of the Atonement, the power of charity, our need to have Christ's image in our countenances, and the inspiration we receive from the Lord. Elder Featherstone shares unique insight into the many gifts that come to us through the Atonement. For example, he writes:

'With a resurrected body, we will be relieved of the present limitations placed on us; we will move and act and feel quicker, better, and more deeply. Our love and compassion will be expanded; our fears and frustrations will be lessened. All of our senses of touch, sight, hearing, tasting, and smelling will improve beyond our comprehension. Life in a resurrected body will be glorious.'

And on the subject of healing and inner peace Elder Featherstone writes:

'Every victim of incest, rape, spouse abuse, molestation, and fraud is equally entitled to relief and peace and should be as free from suffering as the repentant transgressor. If the transgressor alone could find peace and forgiveness, where would be the justice? The Redeemer of the world has redeemed the innocent and has atoned for the suffering of the innocent as well as the guilty. All souls who suffer are invited to come unto Him.'

Here is inspiration and insight for every Latter-day Saint striving to follow the Savior.
