The ancient prophecy will change everything.

Felicittà, the city of mirrors, piques Pietro's interest. Though he's promised himself that he'll travel far and wide, he cannot help but remain within Felicittà's walls awhile longer. The city is everything anyone could ever want, full of mystery and intrigue. It's drawn Pietro in, preventing him from moving forward with his plans.

The balance between the world of dreams and reality is quite fragile. Felicittà's citizens risk losing themselves to the void. Tasked with bringing the city back from its subsequent extinction, Pietro soon realizes that nothing is what it seems. Led by the bizarre Theodore and the kind Leon, he must find the strength within himself to understand the enigma that surrounds the city.

According to the prophecy, the black woodpecker must come forth to bring salvation once more. Felicittà faces an uncertain future. The souls of its beloved citizens lie in limbo and Pietro must undo the Magpie's magic. To right all wrongs, he must believe in himself and in what he will one day become. Only then, can he restore order to a world whose fragile existence teeters closer to the edge of a darkened precipice.
